

PARENT COACHING SERVICES FOR AGENCIES AND SCHOOLS IN THE U.S.

The parents you help deserve the best family support professionals.

PCI Certified Parent Coaches® are professionals—counselors, social workers, parent educators—with lots of experience helping moms and dads. They have successfully completed a one-year, graduate-level Parent Coach Certification® Training Program in collaboration with the Parent Coaching Institute and Seattle Pacific University. Parent Coach Certification® is the most rigorous, comprehensive credentialing parent coach training program available.

The parents you help deserve best practices.

The PCI Parent Coaching Model has been researched over the last ten years to show that PCI Certified Parent Coaches® successfully reduce parental stress, assist in linking parents with the appropriate resources for difficult parenting challenges, teach parents how to solve their own problems, and give moms and dads sustainable parenting skills, along with hope for the journey.

With PCI Parent Coaching, children blossom and families flourish. Lives are transformed.

"Working with Marnie Klaassen, PCI Certified Parent Coach®, helped us support mothers in new, exciting ways. Her insights and skills enabled them to use the best of themselves in their parenting. Plus they are now connecting and building relationships and a network of support. It is a thrill to see all the positive changes over the 3-month period of parent coaching. I am excited for the next project to begin!"
